

Pharmalogic has taken a proactive stance to assure the patients and clients we serve, as well as our employees, are safe. Because our facilities are responsible for sterile compounding and PET manufacturing, strict cleaning, disinfection procedures and garbing are part of our everyday routines - and we take this responsibility seriously. Additionally, we utilize appropriate clean room environments that are disinfected according to standard procedures ensuring that products are free of contamination and microorganisms. We have also implemented specific precautions in response to the COVID 19 situation.

- Our quality assurance team is monitoring the evolving national recommendations from the CDC, FDA, WHO, OSHA and other sources for response to COVID-19, including workplace recommendations for employers.
- We have expanded our sick leave policy and emphasized to all our employees (both full-time and part-time) to stay at home at any onset of illness.
- To supplement our normal cleaning policies, our couriers will be disinfecting our delivery cars after each run and will be using disposable gloves, as necessary.
- We are enforcing strict adherence to hand washing, garbing and good hygiene practices, for all facility and delivery employees.
- All nonessential travel has been eliminated and replaced by teleconferencing or other remote communications.
- We are controlling access to our facilities from outside vendors and tailoring our courier service to conform to client-specific restrictions on the delivery of radiopharmaceuticals.
- Critical product inventory has been ordered and in stock to insure uninterrupted radiopharmaceutical supply for the coming months.
- Our operations management and sales teams are coordinating to assure that potential disruptions in the radiopharmaceutical supply chain are quickly communicated to clients.

Although we are not experiencing any service interruptions at this time, we will partner closely with you during this challenging period to assure that there is minimal disruption to our clients and their patients.

Sincerely,
